Current Responsibility

Verna Brenner is a consultant and defined benefit operations manager in the Milliman Employee Benefits Administration Practice. She joined the firm in 2006. Verna is responsible for directing the day-to-day operations of the pension administration group. She is responsible for all aspects of workflow management, forms processing, pension calculations, payee administration, and client services. Verna is also responsible for ensuring that all work is completed in accordance with practice standards.

Professional Work Experience

Verna has worked in the defined benefit field for more than 24 years, with extensive experience in supervising and managing various defined benefit administration teams. Her experience includes daily team management, special projects, benefit calculations, calculation testing, and monthly events processing for large clients.

Prior to joining Milliman, Verna worked for more than 11 years in the defined benefit practice at another major consulting firm.
