Milliman taps Jeffrey Nipp to join its Employee Benefits Practice

Nipp will serve as senior investment consultant with a focus on public pension plan consulting, client support, and practice management

SEATTLE – February 27, 2017 – Milliman, Inc., a premier global consulting and actuarial firm, today announced that Jeffrey Nipp has joined the company's Employee Benefits practice as a senior consultant. Nipp brings 30 years of industry experience to his new role at Milliman. His responsibilities will include evaluating, researching, constructing, and monitoring multi-asset class portfolios, with an emphasis on public pension plans. Prior to joining Milliman, Nipp was a managing director for Invesco and before that BlackRock, where he worked with retail and institutional clients. He also spent 20 years in senior leadership roles at Watson Wyatt and Towers Perrin.

Rich Wright, Principal at Milliman, says, "Jeff is a valuable addition to the Employee Benefits practice at Milliman with a varied range of experience that will be an asset to the firm. He has a proven track record of successfully meeting clients' needs and is widely respected in the industry. We're excited to have him join our team."

Nipp says, "I'm thrilled to join an organization that places such a high value on independence and excellence. This role will allow me to focus on producing the best results for clients, and to do so at a firm which has a reputation for thoughtful analytical work that is second to none in the industry."
