Milliman hires Samie Moore, formerly of Mercer and Hewitt, to expand life, absence, and disability offerings

Moore will provide end-to-end LAD consulting services for large employers

SEATTLE – March 5, 2018 – Milliman, Inc., a premier global consulting and actuarial firm, today announced that Samie Moore is joining the company’s Health & Welfare group as an end-to-end life, absence, and disability (LAD) consultant. Moore, formerly of Mercer and Hewitt, is a nationally recognized expert in LAD with 14 years’ industry experience consulting to Fortune 500 companies, with deep subject matter expertise in Family Medical Leave (FML), vacation, Paid Time Off (PTO), disability and parental leave.

As a LAD consultant, Moore will partner with employers on financial analyses, program implementation, claim audits, design strategy, and vendor management. She has supported companies in a wide variety of sectors, with significant experience in the areas of healthcare, retail, media, high tech, and pharma. She has also supported manufacturing, petroleum, transportation, communications, utilities and financial services employers. Moore joins Milliman as demand grows for the firm’s health and welfare consulting services.

“Samie is a well-known name in the industry and a trusted LAD advisor to numerous Fortune 500 companies,” says Dan Skwire, a principal and consulting actuary with Milliman, who specializes in LAD work. “Her expertise in end-to-end LAD consulting is an exceptionally valuable addition for Milliman as we seek to broaden the scope of the health and welfare services we provide to large employers.”

“Milliman is known throughout the industry for its high-quality work and strong actuarial foundation - something I place great value on,” says Moore. “Combining that deep financial expertise with the full range of other LAD services we can now offer makes Milliman unique and differentiates the firm’s solutions from the rest of the marketplace.”
