

Julie Cannaday

CRPC®

Senior Consultant and Education Manager

CURRENT RESPONSIBILITY

Julie Cannaday is a Senior Consultant and Education Manager for the Milliman Employee Benefits Administration practice. Julie joined the firm in 1995.

EXPERIENCE

Using her benefit knowledge, Julie consults to tailor a meeting strategy and execution based on client culture. She manages retirement educators and on-site representative staff, facilitates executive retirement consultations, and develops current marketing of employee meeting curriculum. Julie also measures meeting success through participant behavior change and is responsible for the integration of human resources and retirement plan education. Julie has been in the retirement industry since 1982.

Julie's team provides multiple types of employee meeting services including group meetings, individual consultations, virtual meetings, lunch and learns, webinars, train-the-trainer services, and video recordings.

Prior to joining Milliman, Julie was responsible for employee benefits education to employees at various airports of Southwest Airlines, including their headquarters. She has extensive experience in the employee benefits field. Her vast knowledge of retirement and health and welfare plans allows her to develop comprehensive communication strategies to maximize employee benefit awareness and appreciation. Julie brings great enthusiasm, creativity, and passion to helping participants save and prepare for a successful retirement.

PROFESSIONAL DESIGNATIONS

- Chartered Retirement Plan Consultant (CRPC®)

AFFILIATIONS

- International Association of Business Communicators
- Worldwide Employee Benefits Network

EDUCATION

BA in Finance, University of Texas at Arlington

