

S. ANDREW KLINE

Actuarial Analyst

andy.kline@milliman.com

+1 262 796 3337

Current Responsibility

Andy Kline is an actuarial analyst with the Milwaukee office of Milliman. He joined the firm in 2004.

Professional Work Experience

Andy's area of expertise is in property and casualty insurance. Within this industry, he has broad exposure to several lines of business, with special emphasis on the following:

- Medical professional liability (physicians, hospitals, other medical professionals, other medical facilities), including associated cyber liability risk
- Lawyers professional liability
- Commercial multi-peril
- General liability

Andy has assisted numerous clients with assignments that include:

- Loss reserving, including studies in preparation for actuarial opinions
- Ratemaking, including funding studies and analyses of rating factors for class plans, territorial plans, and increased limit factors
- Evaluation of reinsurance programs
- Pro-forma financial projections
- Quarterly/annual statement page support
- Product rate filing support
- Regulatory reserve review support

Education

BS, Mathematics, Purdue University

Presentations and Publications

- "United States General Aviation – Admitted Market: Summary of 2020 Statutory Financial Results." Milliman.com, August 2021.
- "First-Quarter Financial Results for Medical Professional Liability Specialty Writers Show Effect of Dwindling Releases." Medical Liability Monitor, July 2021.
- "Lawyers Professional Liability Update: Insurers' String of Strong Financial Results Continues." Milliman P&C Perspectives, October 2014.