Current Responsibility

Jason is a principal and consulting actuary with the Seattle office of Milliman. He joined the firm in 2003.

Professional Work Experience

Jason has expertise in financial forecasting, reporting, and reserving for all types of health insurance, including commercial and government sponsored populations. His area of focus includes Medicaid managed care as well as individual and small group health insurance rate filings under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act's healthcare reforms. Jason consults to health plans in more than 20 states.

Jason assists clients with benefit design, pricing, healthcare cost projections, rate filings, and benchmark analyses.

In the commercial market, Jason has worked at all levels for carriers. He has helped his clients design rating approaches, develop underwriting manuals and models, analyze historical experience for projections and benchmarking purposes, complete reserve analysis, and provided strategic consulting on a host of other items.

Jason is a member of the American Academy of Actuaries Small Group Market Task Force committee and Premium Review Work Group.
